WASHINGTON NEWS.

Dispatches Sent Out from the National Capital.

THE ARGENTINE REPUBLIC.

The Financial Condition Growing Worse
Daily as Reported to the Bureau of American Republics—Seizures at San Francisco—Cotton Culture in Brazil. Other National Information.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The bureau of the American republics has received a copy of the annual message of President Pellegrini, of the Argentine Republic, laid before congress on the 9th of May last. The president discusses the affairs of the country with great frankness. He states that the country is at peace within itself and with the rest of the world. The only exceptional measures he has been compelled to adopt were the declaring the city of Buenos Ayres in a state of siege, and the suppression of a few newspapers that were stirring up strife.

Concessions of national lands, covering 30,000 square miles, which had been made to speculators for colonization purposes, had been revoked, as the holders of the concessions failed to carry out the conditions on which they obtained the lands. Many public works had of necessity been suspended for lack of funds. Assisted immigration from Europe has been stopped.

The revenues for 1890 were in currency $73,000,400; the expenditures, $82,650,000, leaving a deficit of $19,500,000. The revenues for 1891 had been calculated at $26,000,000 gold. President Pellegrini thinks this statement too high in some particulars, but expresses the hope that the country, by the aid of the "moratorium" loan negotiated in London would be able to pay its own way this year. Trade returns were encouraging. Exports were increasing and imports declining.

The financial crisis, the president says, gets worse daily. The paper money, of which there are $260,000,000 in circulation, had sustained a loss of 80 per cent. He estimates the losses since the crisis began at $200,000,000. The national bank now owes the treasury $60,000,000 currency and $2,000,000 gold. He considers that the best solution of the financial difficulties would be to correct the defects in the state banking system, revive the credit of the state banks and enable them to continue. For this purpose he recommends a parliamentary commission.

He adds: "But the gold standard is an insuperable difficulty in the way of resuming specie payments. If we want a metallic basis we must resort to silver. All the objections raised against the silver standard may apply to Europe, but do not affect us."

Seizure Reported.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Collector Phelps, at San Francisco, in a letter dated June 12, which reached Washington yesterday, details the seizure of certain goods belonging to officers of the United States ship Omaha. The number of cases seized was seventy-one and it was found that twelve were dutiable. The collector says it is possible that the officers did not intend to smuggle the goods and he is inclined to give them the benefit of the doubt. The first information that came to the collector's office was through an informer who signed "Woodford," and who, it is believed, was an employee of the Omaha Assistant Secretary Spaulding has directed that the goods be released on payment of duty amounting to $235.

Appointments.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Secretary Foster has appointed Hon. Charles Grosvenor of Ohio, John M. Butler of Philadelphia, and Professor John M. Ellis of Oberlin college, O., treasury agents to promote foreign exhibits at the world's fair. Mr. Grosvenor's appointment was announced Thursday, but it was not stated that he was under the treasury department, but under the world's fair commission.

Cotton Culture in Brazil.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—The value of the trade in cotton goods in Brazil is shown by the returns for the first four months of the present year, Jan. 1 to April 30, as published by the British board of trade, shows that the value of cotton piece goods exported to Brazil for the first four months of 1891 was $3,866,580, as against $2,443,965 for the corresponding period of the previous year.

Drowned in Icy Bay.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—A telegram received by Captain Shepherd from the revenue cutter Bear states that Lieutenant Robinson, Coxswain Hassler, Seamen Anderson, Nelson and Henry Smith, of the Bear, were drowned in icy bay while trying to land the Russell exploring party. Mr. O. C. Moore, of the Russell party, was also drowned.

English Capital Going to Peru.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—During the last three years the progress of Peru has been very marked, and a great deal of English capital has gone into that country for investment. The English companies who are in business in Peru have a capitalization of $3,308,000.

Millions Involved.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Acting Secretary Spaulding said yesterday that the government would probably appeal the hat trimmings case, decided yesterday, adversely to the government. The amount involved is from $16,000,000 to $20,000,000.

Treasury Statement.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Treasurer Nebecker's statement will show to-day a continued net deficit in the treasury of $637,000.

MORE EVIDENCE.

Damaging Testimony in the Elliott Murder Trial at Columbus, O.

COLUMBUS, June 20.—The web of evidence in the Elliott case is daily growing stronger and tighter, winding its tiny, though platinic fibres with uncomfortable closeness about the defendant. Public sentiment grows stronger that the prosecution is making a great case against the accused.

Patrick Elliott, brother to the man now on trial, who is also under indictment for the same crime, was brought into court yesterday afternoon while testimony relative to the scene in the hat store was being taken. Direct and damaging points were given by McDonald's salesman, Charles Sylvester, who witnessed part of the bloody and cowardly fight of Patsey's. He was standing near the firing and almost immediately Osborn retreated into the store with Patrick Elliott in close pursuit and firing. Witnesses dodged behind the counter and Osborn endeavored to get behind him, appearing to be badly scared. Patsey then rushed into the doorway and witness ran back toward the rear of the store.

Osborn attempted to follow, but a revolver shot sounded before he had taken many steps. A second discharge followed, but the witness did not see either, as he was dodging down a cedar. As the shooting ceased, he again went to the front of the store, saw Osborn lying dead, and Patsey in the hands of Police-man Wolf.

Officer Frank Wolf was on a street car when the tragedy was opened, and seeing the crowds running, he dismounted. Running to the hat store he found Patsey over Osborn's dead body and disarmed him, afterwards turning his prisoner over to Officer McManamy. He then took charge of W. J. Elliott and conducted him to the station.

PASSENGER TRAIN WRECKED.

Six Persons Killed and Fifteen or Twenty Injured.

NEW ORLEANS, June 10.—The fast express train on the Illinois Central railroad, due here at 7:20 p. m., passed Kenner's station nearly two hours behind time. Five miles south of that point, and an equal distance from this city, the train was wrecked. Six persons, it is reported, were killed, and fifteen or twenty more or less badly injured.

A relief train has been sent to the scene of the accident with doctors, and a number of ambulances ordered to the depot to receive and convey the wounded to the hospital. The wreck knocked down all the wires of the Western Union company on the Illinois Central railroad, cutting off telegraphic communication with Kenner.

Setup for Four Years.

FRANKFORT, Ky., June 20.—Charles Johnson, the handsome young burglar, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who was caught in Louisville in April, for breaking into the residence of Mrs. Cary Hendrick, in this city, and robbing Mrs. Chapman Coleman, wife of the secretary of the United States legation at Berlin, was yesterday sentenced to four years in the penitentiary.

Saved from the Wreck.

NEW YORK, June 20.—The steamer Sophie, from Cardiff, brings the crew of fourteen of the bark Exile, of St. John, N. B., which was disabled at sea. The Italian crew of the Sophie refused to go in boats to rescue the men on the Exile, but the officers, who are Germans, went and saved the lives of the men just before the Exile went down.

Two Women Killed by Cars.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 20.—Yesterday Alice Jones and Mary Davis undertook to cross a high railroad trestle near Union Springs, Ala., when they were caught by a passenger train of the Central railroad, and both were run over and killed. They were neighbors and were on their way to the station when the accident occurred.

Four People Drowned.

PADUCAH, Ky., June 20.—While boating in a skiff at Golconda, Ills., last evening, William Hocwischer and William Kreipke, white, and two colored men were drowned. The boat was caught by a storm passing over that section and capsized in mid-river. All were swept away before relief reached them.

A Double Tragedy.

PITTSBURG, June 20.—Late last night a jealous negro named Saunders shot at his rival, young Harris, at Oakdale. His mother received the bullet. Saunders then fired four shots into Harris and escaped. Both Mrs. Harris and her son are in a critical condition.

Jumped the Track.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Four cars of a freight train on the New York Central road jumped the track near New Hamburg yesterday, and were smashed. The wreck delayed traffic four hours, but no one was hurt.

Prominent Railroad Man Dead.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., June 20.—Col. John Levesly, 65, a prominent railroad man and superintendent of the Salem, Or., Indian school during Cleveland's administration died here yesterday.

Weavers' Strike.

FALL RIVER, Mass., June 20.—The shoe mill weavers struck yesterday on account of alleged unjust dismissals made by the overseer. The mill has shut down.

A Negro Boy Executed.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 20.—Sam Johnson, a negro boy aged 18 years, was hanged here yesterday morning for outraging Alice Baify, a white girl, last April.

Senator McDonald Improving.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 20.—Ex-Senator McDonald is resting easily and is able to take milk. There is a change for the better, but probably not permanent.

KILLING CONVICTS.

Horrid Sights at the Execution of Chinese Malefactors.

NINETEEN PEOPLE BEHEADED.

Several Thousand People Witness the Execution—Children in the Assembled Crowd—The Bodies of the Dead Left in the Sun for Twenty-Four Hours.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 20.—Further details have been received by steamer regarding the execution at Kawloon City, opposite Hong Kong, of the nineteen men convicted of participation in the Namor piratical tragedy and the affair of the Greyhound, and a brief mention of which was received by steamer several days ago. The condemned pirates were conveyed through the harbor of Hong Kong to a spot on the beach at Kowloon, where a crowd of several thousand roughs, among whom were several children, had assembled. There were also about five hundred European spectators.

About the only persons in the assemblage who wore a business-like air were the two executioners, two big burly fellows who had seen many a malefactor's head roll in the dust. The nineteen miserable wretches were taken ashore in boats and led to the place of death with their hands bound behind their backs, and having chains dragging from their ankles. One of them, who was too weak to stand, was carried in a basket. Another who was over seventy years of age walked with tottering footsteps and fell to the ground every few yards. They were placed in a row on the beach with their backs towards the sea. The signal given was a fanfare from two trumpeters, and as the roll of the drum ceased, the chief headsman selected one of the three heavy razored swords and the work of decapitation was commenced, the successive blows falling with the regularity of a blacksmith's hammer.

In less time than it takes to tell the story seventeen heads were rolling in the sand. The eighteenth and nineteenth were delayed by false blows and another sword was selected, and in a second the terrible work was over. Each of the men had little bamboo blocks attached to their hair on which the name of the victim was inscribed. The bodies and the heads were left lying where they fell until the next day, when those not removed by relatives were buried in the sand by the authorities. Four of the men decapitated were notorious malefactors.

Plucky Buckeye Girls.

CANTON, O., June 20.—When Miss Lovell, teacher of the Centerville district school at Osnaburg, this county, went to assume her duties, she discovered a huge black snake on the steps of the building. She screamed for help and Flora Shoal, a 15-year-old girl, responded with a club and sailed in for blood. After a hard struggle, she killed the reptile, which measured six feet five inches. The girl's father killed the snake's companion yesterday, which was a little smaller.

Fresh Trouble Promised in the Strip.

ARKANSAS CITY, June 20.—It is stated here on good authority that a thoroughly organized and pledged body of boomers and home-seekers will shortly enter the Cherokee strip, cut all the fences and burn the grass, thus forcing the cattle-men off the land. Cattlemen who are on the strip without authority of law have been warned by Secretary Ross, of the Cherokee nation, that all cattle found trespassing would be seized.

A Flood of Snow Water.

LONGMONT, Colo., June 20.—The warm weather of the past few days has caused an unusual amount of snow to melt in the mountains, the result of which is St. Vrain river is overflowing its banks, and in many places inundating the valleys, weakening bridges and doing thousands of dollars' worth of damage to the growing crops. The waters are still rising and further damage is feared.

Storm in Arkansas.

LITTLE ROCK, June 20.—A destructive storm passed over eastern Arkansas yesterday. Houses were unroofed and blown down, fences swept away and a large area of timber laid waste. Mrs. Julia Shadrack was killed by a falling tree. John Stanley, who was hauling trees in the woods, was crushed beneath falling timber. Two boys named Hollingsworth are missing, and it is feared, have been killed in the woods.

Riot Among Miners.

PITTSBURG, June 20.—A riot and strike is in progress among the miners at Finleyville. So far as is learned no serious outbreaks have occurred, but is expected every moment. The cause of the outbreak is that colored men are to be employed in opening a new mine. The white miners objected and a general fight occurred. Sheriff Lockhart, with several deputies, have gone to the scene.

You should not fail to read Mr. Dembitz's article on the new Constitution. He gives excellent reasons in favor of the adoption of the new organic law.

COLONEL POLLOCK BARBOUR has again changed his mind, and now says he will not run as the People's Party candidate for Governor. Well, it doesn't matter much whether he runs or doesn't run.

THE Mountain Echo thinks "there is but one other document on the face of the earth, that has been more deliberately misrepresented than the new Constitution." But these misrepresentations have resulted in making more prominent its strongest features.

THE Eminence Constitutional has the following significant item: "The Farmers' Alliance met one hundred strong, Saturday, at Mt. Zion Church. On a standing vote for or against the new Constitution the vote for the new instrument was unanimous."

The latest news from Washington is that the available cash balance in Uncle Sam's treasury has been exhausted and that a deficit of over $700,000 now confronts Mr. Foster. The Republicans haven't heard the last of their late Billion Dollar Congress.

SAYS the Owen News: "A number of our citizens are reading the new Constitution for themselves, and devoting much time to its make up. One gentleman who has given it much study says it is like eating a big black bass; that occasionally he comes to bone, but that the meat is very fine."

THE Farmers' Alliance in Madison is reported badly split up over the race for Representative. The nominee is a Republican, and the Democratic members of the order will not support him. That's about the way it will result in other counties. When the nominee is a Republican the Democratic members will not support him, and when a Democrat is put up the Republicans will decline to vote for him.

REPUBLICAN papers have been talking about American tin for weeks and months and a person would have imagined there were several factories in operation. But the Commercial Gazette to-day contains a special from Hill City, S. D., that the contracts are "to be let at once for the first mill in this country." The question is, where has all this "American tin" been made about which the Republicans have been talking?

POSTMASTER GENERAL WANAMAKER says that when he wrote that statement about the Keystone Bank, solemnly declaring that he had not been instrumental in delaying investigation or the appointment of a receiver, he "forgot." Probably Comptroller Lacey, in his statement that his first information of the defalcation came on January 26, also "forgot." It is singular that neither of these two high Government officials would go on the witness stand, give his testimony under oath and submit to a cross-examination, says the Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Railroads.

Captain Gus Honshell, District Freight and Passenger Agent of C. and O., will sever his connection with that company July 1st.

Commencing to-morrow, the C. and O. will run special excursion trains in both directions between Cincinnati and Portsmouth every Sunday. Half rates between all stations. No ticket to be more than $1.25. Trains leave Cincinnati at 8:05 a.m. and 7:10 p.m., and leave Portsmouth at 7 a.m. and 3:45 p.m.

It is announced that General Passenger Agent Fuller, of the C. and O., will be transferred from Cincinnati to Washington, D. C., July 1. C. B. Ryan, at present Chief Clerk under Mr. Fuller, will be appointed Assistant General Passenger Agent of the system, and will have his headquarters in Cincinnati. It is rumored that President Ingalls will announce several other important changes before he departs for Europe.

PLAIN TALK

By Mr. Lewis N. Dembitz in Favor of the New Constitution.

It Abolishes Special Privileges, and Will Not Drive Capital From Kentucky.

Mr. Lewis N. Dembitz, of Louisville, has written an interesting and highly instructive letter to the Courier-Journal in favor of the new Constitution. "Mr. Dembitz," the Courier-Journal states, "is a gentleman well-known in Kentucky, and his views are always valuable." His argument is so strong and to the point that it is given in full below:

LOUISVILLE, June 14.—The Commonwealth of Kentucky is not a pure Democracy like Athens was in the days of Pericles, or like the cantons of Uri and Tug in Switzerland are now: where the whole people assemble in their own persons, and debate in detail every question affecting the common weal. We are "representative Democracy;" we leave the details to men chosen for that purpose; and the rest of the people, in the proportion of three thousand to one, can only choose between general lines of policy, in most cases only between two lines. We vote in ordinary times for a Democrat or a Republican, as we prefer on the whole Democratic or Republican views. In like manner we shall vote for or against the new Constitution, not as we approve this or that little subordinate provision in it; but as we happen to like or dislike its general tendency, or its main purpose. Let us see what that great end and purpose of the new Constitution is.

Under the present order of things Kentucky, more than any other State of the Union, is ruled by special laws, conferring highly profitable privileges and exemptions on "men and set of men," our Bill of Rights to the contrary notwithstanding. Very many of these special laws are irrepealable, under the blighting influence of the Dartmouth College case, others are supposed to be beyond legislative repeal, like the lottery charters though they are not. And while these special privileges last they are a burden, an unjust, galling burden upon the rest of the community, upon all those who have not the same privilege, not having bought or cajoled it from weak or venal legislators. I do not measure this burden altogether by dollars and cents. I carry a little sentiment into politics; and I hope there are others besides me who do the same. No State can stand and prosper without a feeling of loyalty on the part of its citizens to the underlying principle on which that State is founded. A Democracy—though it be a representative one—is based on equal rights to all, special privileges to none. As I look round me, I feel myself humiliated and wronged on every side. Here is a large block which has not paid taxes for many years, under some special exemption. There is a row of houses; they belong to a bank; they pay no city tax, under the provisions of the bank charter. There is a fire insurance company; it pays no city tax on its investments, because these companies succeeded in 1886 to sneak a bill to that effect through the Legislature. Then there is a lot of fellows selling lottery tickets openly and freely; if you or I should try to do so we would be sent to jail. Here is the street railway franchise, worth three million of dollars, for which neither the State nor the city ever realized a cent; perhaps some Councilmen and some Legislators did. Then there is the gas company with its irrepealable monopoly for thirty years.

All these nefarious, disgraceful, un-American privileges are, or are believed to be, "vested rights;" nothing, or very little, can be done in the way of abolishing them; but, at least, as these so-called rights gradually expire, no new ones should be saddled upon us. The only remedy to prevent the growth of the evil is the adoption in August of the new Constitution. If the people vote it down, their representatives will construe the rejection of the new organic law as a verdict in favor of special legislation; of setting up, even more securely than now, a sham nobility of charter-holders and charter-mongers. We are told that the new Constitution in abridging the power of the Legislature abridges the power of the people. I ask your readers candidly: Does the Legislature represent the people when it scatters abroad among its favorites valuable privileges, sometimes worth millions of dollars, without price and without reward? Suppose the Frankfort Lottery charter had been submitted to a vote of the people of Kentucky; or the gas monopoly; or the bill giving up almost every street in Louisville to the street car companies; or the bill making to a private company a present of the locks and dams on Green river?

And if we even suppose that the people might have ratified all these acts of robbery and injustice, what becomes of the fine-sounding phrase in our present organic law (Article XIII, Section 2), "That absolute, arbitrary power over the lives, liberty and property of freemen exists nowhere in a republic, not even in the largest majority?"

The practical workings of the present Constitution belie this fair promise, when one man is locked up for doing the thing which another man is expressly authorized to do, when one man's property is taken for taxes in order to relieve the property of another from its fair share of the public burdens. We are told that the new Constitution cripples the Legislature, which is the only direct representative of the people. It does nothing of the kind. The new Constitution only confines the Legislature to what its name implies: to the making of laws. A so-called special law is not a law at all; it is an act of arbitrary power, an exception from the law; it is one of those things the power to do which, in a republic, ought to exist nowhere, "not even in the largest majority."

I am not afraid that the adoption of the new Constitution will drive capital from our borders. Where will it go? Practically, the same Constitution is now in force in every State to the south and to the west and to the north of us. Kentucky is above the Ohio River, still affiliated with "vested rights" and the base of the Dartmouth College division. If capital won't take its chance in Kentucky because we will no longer worship it, and pay a humiliating tribute to it, it will have to seek for investments in Russia or in Morocco. Respectfully your faithful reader,

LEWIS N. DEMBITZ.

NATURAL HISTORY.

TENTH PAPER.

THE MONKEY—Tread softly; uncover and bow low, for we are on sacred ground. We are in the midst of the shaftless and untombed sepulchres of our ancestral dead. Turn around, and come with us a few decades of millennia, and sit beneath the shade of yon outspreading banyan on the bank of the Congo. What is that package of animated nature in the fork of that coco tree opposite us, just away from the yonder bank? Can't see it? Sometimes none are so blind as they who don't wish to see. Well, my dear boy, that is your way-back grandmother. Put your field-glass on her and you will see that she is busying herself with something in her arms. That is an embryo future possibility; perhaps a coming Senator of the Congo Republic. She is giving him milk. Don't break up so; she is giving it to him from a coconut—a monkey milk-shake, one of the earliest we hear of. You have heard there was milk in the cocoanut, but did you ever hear how it got there? So they are monkeying and mamma—Mrs. Nyana Chimpanzee and infant son at breakfast.

Just look a little further on, out towards the switch end of a neighboring limb. Don't you see that chap swinging by his tail and clutching at something beneath him? That is old Col. Chimp, your remotest paternal ancestor. He is gathering fruit for the day's meals. Your ancestor was industrious and provident, and he raised the boys the same way. They had to work for a living, and if they were disposed to shirk, or take to fads or sports, he gave them strap oil freely, and it had the desired effect. It was better than castor oil.

Base ball had not then become a National fad, but occasionally the old gentleman did some fine batting; the boys were in it, but they did the catching. There were no King Kelley's then, and the widow, the orphan and the helpless poor did not want for shelter or go hungry to bed.

There was no monkeying with the old man. He was sensible and a philosopher. Nor was he always on the severe side of life. He was ever cheerful in his disposition, and so accepted the logic of events. He maintained the dignity and integrity of manhood religiously. He had not an individual side and then a political side. Nay, his politics were as much a matter of principle with him as were those of any other department or phase of life. Were he a candidate for office, it was because the people, as true citizens, had sought him out as one capable and worthy to receive their unpurchasable suffrages. Were he a voter he did not go to the hustings and get beastly drunk on some candidate's popskull whisky, and then sell himself for a dollar and become the property of the candidate, as though he were a sheep or other chattel, and then go home at night and look his wife and children in their faces and dare boast that he was a man. No, it has been reserved to his enlightened progeny of the nineteenth century, in this "land of the free and home of the brave"—where the birthright of freedom and manhood are second only to the birthright of eternal life—to evolve such action from the teachings of a higher civilization. We are speaking of evolution, whether progressive or retrogressive we do not pretend.

It is not our purpose to undertake to supply the "missing link," account for the milk in the cocoanut or argue evolution pro or con; both life and space are too brief; we turn it over to seers, sages and savants, but in parting from you, my dear boy, we leave our advice with you. It shall not obligate you for a penny; indeed, in looking over our jewels we find it is all we have to leave you, to-wit, namely: if you conceive the idea, or have had it intimated by some kinsman with enlargement of the head, that blue blood courses your veins, and you set out to track for it, and your lineage line fetches up "agin" a monkey, and the indigo tinge pales, don't let a little thing like that send you to the bow-wows straight, or cause you to commit suicide. No, brace up and remember that "a man's a man for a' that an' a' that," no matter what the "winks and finger ends" may do. It boots not whether the family tree takes you back to patrician or plebian start, face about, front the coming, stand on your own feet, hoist your own flag and will to carry it to the front of battle. Keep in the middle of the road, and if you keep your resolve and remain square with yourself you will "get there"—though your ancestor may not have been all you would have had him—even if you have no wings, and when you get to the end of the great through line, a pass will be given you at the station when you change cars for the "sweet by and by."

We are offering special drives for a limited time in all lines of our unequalled varieties of spring and summer footwear. Owing to the short spring season, we have left over a limited amount of fresh, new stock in the best makes and latest styles that we are offering at profitless prices. Come and see our rare offerings before it is too late.—H. C. Barkley's Spot Cash Shoe Store.

A NEEDLE'S TRAVELS.

A Mt. Olivet Man Makes a Singular Discovery.

John R. Struve, of Mt. Olivet, has had a rather singular experience with a needle.

He was out riding a few days ago when he suddenly felt a sharp pain in the region of the left groin. He did not pay much attention to it at first but it increased, and he concluded he had been stung, or had been bitten, by some insect.

The pain continuing to grow more severe, Mr. Struve returned home and on investigation was surprised to find some sharp substance almost protruding through the skin. The Advance says:

"He called at the home of Dr. J. B. Wood, who made an examination and advised the use of the knife to determine the cause of the trouble. This he proceeded to do, when he found a needle with the eye downward and which he soon succeeded in extracting. The Doctor tells us that the incision was made at a point which in surgery is termed lateral lithotomy, as it was a little to the left of the median line. The needle was somewhat rusty and must have been swallowed in his youth, as he does not remember of ever swallowing it. His severe spell of sickness last summer, which was of a kidney and intestinal trouble, is now thought to have resulted from the effect of the needle in his body."

MR. D. F. FRAZEE, a Mason Countian, is one of the officers of the Bluegrass National Building Association recently organized at Lexington.

O. C. POPE, of Millersburg, while at Cincinnati yesterday, got a small boy to carry his valise to the depot. The boy and valise have both disappeared.

JOS. A. DAVIS, of this city, and Henry Adam, of this county, have received notice through their attorney, M. C. Hutchinsons, that each has been granted a pension at the rate of $12 per month from July 30, 1890.

SERVICES in First Presbyterian Church to-morrow, morning and evening, at the usual hours, conducted by the pastor, Rev. John S. Hays, D. D. Young People's meeting at 7:30 p. m. All cordially invited to these services.

SERVICES at M. E. Church Sunday at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Epworth League 7 p. m. Subject for the sermon at night, "The Thorn in the Flesh." Preaching by Rev. Thomas Hanford, D. D., pastor. Strangers especially welcomed.

ONLY a few more days to close out our entire stock of china, glass and queensware, which must be sold without fail. We mean business. Dinner, tea and chamber sets at sacrifice prices. Yours respectfully, 18d9t&w1 OBERSTEIN & COHEN.

AS HARVEST approaches, attention is asked to the home-made cradle business. Frank Owens Hardware Co.'s is "head center" for Toncray's, McNutt's and Schwab's. These brands are without doubt the very best made. Large stock on hand.

SPEAKING of Judge Whitaker's speech at that place in advocacy of the new Constitution, the Mt. Olivet Advance says: "From what we can glean, we believe that three-fourths of the audience will vote 'yes' on its adoption at the August election."

CHARLES JENKINS, who lived near Frankfort, set a trap gun for a chicken thief one evening this week. He then started to leave the hen house when he tripped against the string, the gun was discharged and the contents entered the lower part of his abdomen, killing him almost instantly.

THE Covington Commonwealth says: "The many friends of Mr. Lewis Pearce, an old, prominent and highly esteemed citizen of Covington, formerly of Maysville, will regret to hear of his serious illness at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Major Mathews, No. 519 Greenup street. It appears that the left side is partially paralyzed, owing to a severe cold. No immediate serious results are anticipated."

THE funeral of Mrs. Lizzie Poyntz Hicks takes place this afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. S. B. Poyntz on East Front street. The remains arrived last night. The bereaved husband, Mr. C. J. Hicks, his brother, Dr. J. W. Hicks, Major M. R. Marks and Mr. O. T. Poyntz, brother of the deceased, all of Orlando, Fla., are here to attend the funeral. The funeral services will be conducted by Revs. C. S. Lucas and D. D. Chapin.

IN the approaching judicial convention for the district composed of the counties of Brown, Clermont and Adams, the first named county will be entitled to thirty-nine votes, while Adams will have thirty-two and Clermont forty-two. Clermont concedes the nomination to Brown and Adams, and there will likely be a warm fight. August 8 is the date set for the primaries in Brown. Huntington Township is entitled to four delegates to the county convention.

THE ladies of Sedden Chapel, M. E. Church, Chester, will give an ice cream supper to-night, in a room opposite M. C. Hutchinson's grocery on Second street in Chester. Refreshments of all kinds will be served at reasonable rates, and a pleasant time is assured all attending.

THE South Methodist Sunday school will meet in the opera house to-morrow morning at 9:30 o'clock. After Sunday school the Christian Endeavor Society will hold a short service instead of in the evening. There will be no preaching, as the pastor, Rev. J. E. Wright, is called to Grant County to deliver a funeral discourse.

Numerous remedies, such as ammonia, oil of cloves, chloroform, etc., have been recommended for mosquito bites, but a writer says that ordinary soap is as good as any of them. He always carries a small piece with him on his country excursions, and in case of a bite makes a lather over the affected part and allows it to dry. The burning is at once relieved and all pain soon disappears, says the Bourbon News.

SERVICES at the Central Presbyterian Church to-morrow as follows: Preaching in the morning by the pastor. Subject: "Jesus of Nazareth Passeth By." At 4:30 p. m. there will be a special service for the ladies. Mrs. Rev. Henry Forman will address the ladies on the work of the church in India. The ladies of all the churches (and none but ladies) are invited. In the evening at 7:30 Rev. Henry Forman, for number of years missionary to India, will tell of his work in that land.

SAYS the Danville Advocate: "Mr. W. B. Thomas, of Maysville, who is spending a few days with relatives here, met with an accident Thursday morning that will confine him to his room for several days. Mr. Thomas came out of Price & McMurray's store and starting up the street struck his knee against the iron covering of the cellar opening, which he had failed to observe was raised. The cap of his knee was badly bruised, and his physician thinks that some of the ligaments may be torn."

THE Court of Appeals rendered a decision a few days ago that will prove of interest to all trust companies. The ruling was made in the case of the town of Shelbyville vs. the Shelby County trust company, wherein the town sued the Trust Company for taxes on the full amount of its capital stock, the defendant claiming that it was required to pay only on the amount of capital paid in. The case was tried in the Circuit Court, where a decision in favor of the town was rendered. It was then carried to the Superior Court and from there to the Court of Appeals, where the decision of the lower court was affirmed. The trust company will have to pay all that was claimed by the town. This amounts to several hundred dollars.

DON'T RUN AWAY with the idea that you can possibly be well dressed if you don't wear good Shoes. You may pay princely prices for your clothing, but if your footwear looks as though there was room for improvement in it, the whole effect will be spoiled.

SHOES WERE MADE to protect the feet, but they were not made to throw them out of shape, and if they don't contribute to the wearer's comfort, the sooner they are discarded, the better.

WE MAKE A SPECIALTY of easy, neat, snug-fitting and serviceable Shoes, and we charge no more for them than you would have to pay for the other kind.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

Condition of Business as Reported by Dun & Company.

CROP PROSPECTS IMPROVED.

Favorable Reports Come from Every Commercial Center—Effect of Recent Failures in the Building Trade—An Ample Supply of Money—Business Failures of the Week.

NEW YORK, June 20.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: Crop prospects have greatly improved during the past week, particularly in southern and northwestern regions, where there has been a lack of rain, and there is now scarcely a single commercial center from which the crop reports are not highly favorable.

At Boston more disposition to buy is noticed in the leather trade, and steady orders for boots and shoes, though small, give encouragement. The lumber trade is also a little better, though prices are low, and sales of wool are larger, reaching 2,410,000. The market is rather unsettled. At Philadelphia the wool trade is waiting, holders asking more than buyers wish to give, but the leather trade is healthy, with better prospects.

In building much depression results from recent failures. Pittsburgh notes better demand for manufactured iron, and Cleveland more demand for pig. At Cincinnati trade is picking up, and at Detroit increased in some lines, wool moving at two or three cents lower prices than a year ago. Chicago notes wool receipts double last year's, with an increase of one-half in wheat and dressed beef, and moderate increase in hides, but decrease in flour, corn and lard. St. Louis notes some change by frequent rains, and while lumber, building, hardware, paint and oil trades are especially active, the general aggregate is rather less than a year ago, though of fair volume.

It is important that all northwestern and southwestern reports mention rains, and brighter crop prospects. At St. Paul it is stated that few localities now lack moisture, and the wheat crops of Minnesota and the Dakotas is thought to be secure from harm by drought. Crop prospects strengthen confidence at Kansas City, and business is improved at Louisville, decidedly at Montgomery and slightly at New Orleans. Trade is small at Memphis, but crop prospects good; quiet at Little Rock, dull at Nashville, better than usual for the season at Atlanta and much better than last year at Jacksonville.

Regarding money, reports show almost every where an ample supply for legitimate and safe business, but it is frequently mentioned that there is no supply for speculation, and at St. Louis the market is stiffer at 7 to 8 per cent.; at Kansas City, firm at 8 to 10; at Detroit, rather strong at 7; rather stringent at Cleveland; tight at Little Rock and Atlanta; close at Nashville, and in good demand with firm rates at New Orleans.

The demand for manufactured iron and steel improves. For structural iron there is a rush of orders because of the collapse of building strikes, and makers of sheet iron are somewhat pushed, though bar iron is only fairly active, but plates are in good demand. The stagnation produced in rails by the combination to hold up prices is shown by the official report that sales to June 1 this year were but 725,376 tons, against 1,066,000 to same date last year, and deliveries but 37,000 tons, against 598,000 last year.

The wool market at New York shows improvement, and a larger demand by manufacturers. In woolen goods there is a large volume of business, and the orders show that distinct gain in the consuming demand is felt. The orders for foreign goods are said to be 50 per cent. less than a year ago, but the domestic trade gains. In hides large receipts at the west have broken the combination to lift prices, and buffaloes, after rising from five and three-fourths to seven cents in March, sell at five and three-fourths cents again. Coal is very dull, copper and lead unchanged, and tin a shade lower.

The business failures occurring during the past seven days, number, for the United States, 224, and for Canada 29, or a total of 253, as compared with a total of 244 last week, and 224 the week previous to the last. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 199, representing 178 failures in the United States, and 21 in the Dominion of Canada.

A Family's Misfortune.

RALEIGH, June 20.—Mrs. T. R. Glennan, wife of Surgeon Glennan, U. S. N., arrived at Raleigh Thursday evening from Washington with four children. Rose, 5 years old, had a case of diphtheria and died Monday evening; Pansy, 3 years old, died of the same disease yesterday afternoon; Kenneth is now at death's door, and the remaining child has the disease.

A Peculiar Accident.

FRANKLIN, Pa., June 20.—During the heavy storm yesterday Marjoram, a filly valued at $10,000, owned by Miller & Sibley, became frightened and ran into an old building. The floor gave way and she fell and broke her neck. She was entered in the two-year-old stake races all over the country.

Skipped for Parts Unknown.

COLUMBUS, O., June 20.—A letter from Detective Brown, who went to Vancburg, Ky., to interview Guy Fowler after the publication that the latter had made a confession in Isaac Smith's case, states that his man had skipped out. Smith is a Pike county murderer.

Richmond Wants Jeff Davis' Remains.

RICHMOND, June 20.—A mass meeting was held in the chamber of commerce and a committee was appointed to visit New York and impress upon Mrs. Jefferson Davis that Richmond is the most appropriate place at which to inter permanently her husband's remains.

Herr Most Gets a Year.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Herr Most having lost his appeal, was yesterday sentenced to one year's imprisonment.

FOOLHARDY NAVIGATORS.

Two Yankees Start on a Race from Boston to England in Cockle-Shells.

BOSTON, June 20.—Two reckless men have started on a perilous voyage. Captain William A. Andrews and Captain Joseph M. Lawler think they can cross the Atlantic in 15-foot boats, and, undaunted by the probable fate of Captain Norton, they set out from Crescent Beach for a race to Land's End, England.

Captain Andrews, who sailed in a boat called the Mermaid, is a good deal of a merman. In 1878 he crossed the ocean in the 19-foot Natilus with his brother; in 1880 he tried again with the Dark Serpent, but after sixty-one days had to give up in midocean. The Mermaid is 15 feet long with 12-foot keel and a draught of 1 foot.

Captain Lawler sailed in the Sea Serpent, 14 feet 11 inches over all, 13 feet 5 inches keel and 5 feet beam. She has, unlike the Mermaid, two air-tight compartments. Captain Lawler is an old salt from a way back. He started in when 13 years of age to follow the sea and has had romances and adventures enough to fill a book. He has been around both capes four times. He is 37 years old, while Andrews is 48. Both boats are well equipped with provisions and necessities of all kinds, and each captain will do his best to be in first.

Caused by a Cross Tie.

COOP RAPIDS, Ia., June 20.—The coroner's jury that has been investigating the accident of Tuesday night on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway, in which two persons were killed, has returned a verdict that the accident was caused by a cross tie placed on the guard rail by parties yet unknown to the jury. A discharged Italian laborer, who has made threats against the company and is under suspicion, has been arrested by order of the coroner.

Hippolyte's Hide Whole.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Haytian Consul Prince said to-day that there was not the slightest foundation for the statement that President Hippolyte had been shot; that he had received a mail from Port-au-Prince of a later date than the time of the alleged shooting and that his advices indicated that everything was tranquil down there and business affairs being transacted as usual.

Richmond Wants Jeff Davis' Bones.

RICHMOND, June 20.—A mass meeting was held in the chamber of commerce last night and a committee was appointed to visit New York and impress upon Mrs. Jefferson Davis that Richmond is the most appropriate place at which to inter permanently her husband's remains.

Vacancy Caused by Death.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 20.—Colonel John Lee died yesterday at his home at Crawfordsville, Ind. Colonel Lee was a member of the world's fair commission. He has been for many years extensively identified with western railroads. Colonel Lee was the father-in-law of Maurice Thompson, the novelist.

Schooner Sunk.

LAWES, Del., June 20.—A small unknown two-masted schooner is reported sunk on the upper end of the Shears shoal, five miles above here. The crew are supposed to be in the rigging. The Lewes life saving station crew with a boat has gone to their rescue.

Attention to Knights of Labor.

COLUMBUS, O., June 20.—The National executive board of the Knights of Labor, of which Grand Master Workman Powderly is chairman, will meet in Columbus June 23. Every assembly of the state is requested to send a delegate to the meeting. The object is not stated, but it is believed to be to take action about assimilating with the People's party.

Deaf Mute Killed by Cars.

WARSAW, Ind., June 20.—James E. Townsend, a deaf mute, was struck by the southbound passenger of the Cincinnati, Wabash and Michigan railroad a mile south of Milford yesterday, and instantly killed. His home is at Harrisburg, O.

A New Oil Field.

MARENGO, Ind., June 20.—Indications of oil become more and more favorable here every day in the well which is being sunk for gas. At a depth of but one hundred feet oil is flowing at the rate of perhaps ten gallons per day.

Passengers Shaken Up.

PORTLAND, Me., June 20.—The engine, baggage car, sleeping car and smoker of the through train on the Maine Central left the track near Intervale last night. The passengers were badly shaken up but no one was hurt.

Fifteen Million Dollars Involved.

PHILADELPHIA, June 20.—The jury in the Meyer & Dickinson test suit against the government, to recover alleged excessive duties paid on importations of hat trimmings, returned a verdict in the United States circuit court, in favor of the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs claimed that the goods were liable to only 20 per cent. duty, while the custom house officials held that they were dutiable at 50 per cent. The amount involved in all the cases, of which that of Meyer & Dickinson is an agreed test, is about $15,000,000.

The Bridge Gave Way.

LA JUNTA, Colo., June 20.—Yesterday morning at 8 o'clock while a party of emigrants, consisting of A. J. Bliss, wife and four children, Grant Green, wife and one child, and Charles Wilkerson, were crossing a bridge over Timpani creek, near here, the bridge gave way, precipitating the entire party into the creek which was swollen by recent rains. Wilkerson was drowned, and Bliss and his four children seriously injured by falling timber. The remainder of the party escaped unharmed.

Death of a Pioneer.

LIBERTY, Ind., June 20.—Jack Tomperton died at his home in the southern part of this county, aged 64 years, dying on the farm where he had lived since boyhood. He was the first man born in the Whitewater valley. He was closely related to some of the foremost politicians of this state.

Herr Most Gets a Year.
